

U.S. Department of Commerce
Office of the Chief Counsel for Trade Enforcement & Compliance
Staff Attorney Positions

The Office of the Chief Counsel for Trade Enforcement & Compliance (CC-TEC) is the principal legal advisor to Enforcement & Compliance (E&C), an agency of the International Trade Administration, at the U.S. Department of Commerce. CC-TEC attorneys advise E&C regarding legal issues that arise during antidumping (discriminatory pricing) and countervailing duty (foreign government subsidization) administrative proceedings. CC-TEC attorneys also defend E&C's trade remedy determinations before federal courts (specifically, the Court of International Trade and the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit), USMCA panels, and in WTO dispute settlement proceedings. CC-TEC attorneys are also involved in negotiating multilateral and bilateral trade agreements involving trade remedies.

CC-TEC attorneys' work is generally divided into two categories – administrative work and litigation. Administrative work includes providing detailed legal advice regarding the complex statutory and regulatory provisions under which antidumping and countervailing duty determinations are made to ensure that they are consistent with the statute. Litigation work includes drafting briefs for litigation before U.S. courts, USMCA panels, and panels and the Appellate Body of the WTO, and coordinating with interagency colleagues at the U.S. Department of Justice and Office of the United States Trade Representative, among others.
