

Message from the Secretary

Welcome to the 75th Annual Department of Commerce Honor Awards.

For three-quarters of a century, the Commerce Department has recognized employees for their distinguished performance with Gold and Silver Honor Awards. These awards represent our appreciation for those who have gone above and beyond to deliver for America's businesses, families, and communities.

The public servants who are receiving awards this year have used their talent, expertise, and extraordinary work ethic to make progress on a broad range of issues that are core to America's success. Because of their dedication, these exceptional employees have enabled the Commerce Department to fuel innovation, protect our country, and ensure that every community in America has the opportunity to grow and flourish.

Congratulations to all of this year's Honor Awards recipients. You are inspiring models of public service, and I'm proud to work alongside you.
