Introduction: System Description

Provide a brief description of the information system.

Bounded by the Hawaiian Archipelago, American Samoa and U.S. Pacific Remote Island Areas, and the Marianas Archipelago, the Pacific Islands Regional Office (PIRO) encompasses the largest geographical area within the National Oceanic & Atmospheric Administration's (NOAA's) Fisheries' jurisdiction. The information system supports business operations typically found in administrative offices within the federal government for the following divisions:

The Directorate provides strategic support and ensures regional priorities and activities in supporting the agency mission.

The Sustainable Fisheries division is responsible for maintaining healthy fish stocks, implementing approved fishery management plans, including administration of permits and regulations, and the Fisheries Observer Program, collecting data on fishing effort and catch and the incidental take of protected species.

The Protected Resources division protects marine mammals and endangered and threatened species in the region, striving to conserve and protect those populations in the region.

The Habitat Conservation division protects, restores and promotes stewardship of marine and coastal habitat that supports fisheries and conserves protected resources, supporting the management of complex coastal ecosystems through partnerships and technical assistance with stakeholders and other Federal and local partners.

The International Fisheries division promotes responsible marine stewardship and sustainable fisheries management globally by working in regional fisheries management organizations, which play a critical role in the global system of fisheries governance.

The Operations, Management and Information division provides PIRO divisions with facilities, administrative, human resource (HR), budget execution, records management, contracting, information technology and purchasing services.

Address the following elements:

(a) Whether it is a general support system, major application, or other type of system

The NOAA Fisheries PIRO Local Area Network (LAN) functions as an overall General Support System (GSS).

(b) System location

PIRO maintains offices in Honolulu, Hawaii, American Samoa, Guam and Saipan.

(c) Whether it is a standalone system or interconnects with other systems (identifying and describing any other systems to which it interconnects)

NOAA4920 interconnects for network transit purposes with NOAA1200, NOAA Corporate Services LAN.

NOAA4920 interconnects with NOAA4960 to facilitate exchange of Fisheries observer and logbook data.

PIRO has a dedicated wide area network (WAN) link to NOAA4000 to facilitate connectivity to the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) Enterprise Active Directory, data interconnection between other systems within the bureau, and access to corporate services.

(d) The way the system operates to achieve the purpose(s) identified in Section 4

- File shares and printer queues
- Web applications and database services
- Access to NOAA/Department of Commerce (DOC) web services via wide area network connections
- Pacific region fisheries permit data repository

(e) How information in the system is retrieved by the user

Users operating government furnished equipment (GFE) such as desktops or laptops connected to the LAN or virtual private network (VPN) retrieve information in the system.

(f) How information is transmitted to and from the system

- Direct data entry
- Data exchange via interconnected services to facilitate sharing of statistical observer data collected at sea
- Use of Google G.Suite (E-mail, Google Docs)
- Use of DOC Kiteworks to transmit sensitive PII
- Download of publicly available fisheries research data from various internet sources
- All PII/BII is encrypted during transit.

(g) Any information sharing

With regard to the transmission of HR-related data, staff utilize the DOC Kiteworks Secure File Transfer (SFT) service. HR information is sent to NOAA Office of Human Capital Services (OHCS). HR staff at PIRO (within NOAA4920) transmit PII (credentials only) to the Army to facilitate access to the NOAA Inouye Regional Center (IRC), using the Army's secured Department of Defense (DOD) SAFE (Safe Access File Exchange).

Information may be shared within the bureau, with DOC bureaus and other Federal agencies in case of breach.

NOAA4920 shares business identifiable information (BII) and personally identifiable information (PII) with the following independent, private, state and/or foreign entities:

Regional Fisheries Management Organizations:

At the state or interstate level within the applicable Marine Fisheries Commission for the purpose of co-managing a fishery or for making determinations about eligibility for permits when state data are all or part of the basis for the permits.

Additionally, permit-related information may also be disclosed to the applicable Pacific region or international fisheries management body for the purposes of identifying current permit owners and vessels pursuant to applicable statutes or regulations and/or conservation and management measures adopted by a regional or international fisheries management body, such as:

- At the Pacific region level within the applicable Marine Fisheries Commission for the purpose of co-managing a fishery or for making determinations about eligibility for permits when Pacific region data are all or part of the basis for the permits, such as: The Western and Central Pacific Fisheries Commission, the South Pacific Regional Fisheries Commission; regional fisheries organizations such as the International Scientific Committee for Tuna and Tuna-like Species in the North Pacific Ocean; and regional intergovernmental organizations such as the Secretariat of the Pacific Community, the Pacific Islands Forum Fisheries Agency, and the Parties to the Nauru Agreement. At the applicable international level within the applicable fisheries management body for the purposes of identifying current permit owners and vessels pursuant to applicable statutes or regulations and/or conservation and management measures adopted by an international fisheries management body, such as: The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, Commission for the Conservation of Antarctic Marine Living Resources, Inter-American Tropical Tuna Commission, International Pacific Halibut Commission, and International Commission for the Conservation of Atlantic Tunas.

- To foreign governments with whose regulations U.S. fishermen must comply.

In addition to those disclosures generally permitted under 5 U.S.C. 552a(b) of the Privacy Act, these records or information contained therein may specifically be disclosed outside the Department. These records or information contained therein may specifically be disclosed as a routine use as stated below. The Department will, when so authorized, make the determination as to the relevancy of a record prior to its decision to disclose a document. These routine uses are listed in the System of Records Notices (SORNs) COMMERCE/NOAA-6, Fishermen's Statistical Data, and COMMERCE/NOAA-19, Permits and Registrations for United States Federally Regulated Fisheries.

Section 5: Use of the Information

5.1 In the context of functional areas (business processes, missions, operations, etc.) supported by the IT system, describe how the PII/BII that is collected, maintained, or disseminated will be used. Indicate if the PII/BII identified in Section 2.1 of this document is in reference to a federal employee/contractor, member of the public, foreign national, visitor or other (specify).

PII/BII is used in a variety of ways, many of which are unique to each individual division as determined by the division chief in accordance with record management, functional, operational or litigation requirements. The information collected and each division breaks down how it is used.

Information collected from federal employees and contractors:

- PII is collected for the purposes of hiring and conducting performance reviews.
- PII is collected for emergency management communication and safety (Continuity of Operations Plan (COOP)).
- PII is collected for several administration and business functions for the PIRO including organizational charts, integrated resource planning and outage notification/escalation, purchasing and tracking of Travel Cards, and tracking of training.

A copy of each employee's forms submitted to PIRO is stored in a personnel folder on the network. This includes background checks, Employee Address CD-525, Declaration for Federal Employment OF-306, Health Benefits Election Form OPM SF-2809, Direct Deposit Sign-Up Form SF-1199A, Designation of Beneficiary SF-1152, Self- Identification of Handicap SF-256, Designation of Beneficiary - FERS SF- 3102, Statement of Prior Service SF-144, Instructions for Employment Eligibility Verification Form I-9 (with copies of identification), and employee benefits. These are duplicates of forms in OHCS, which we had planned to remove, but which the managers wish to retain at this time, as OHCS cannot always be reached. Records are destroyed as staff leave the system.

Contract managers collect and maintain information from contractors at the time of service to coordinate work orders and to communicate the needs of the agency.

GDP and IN: Supervisors collect and maintain information from visitors, volunteers and foreign nationals during passport application and for permission to access federal facilities. See NAO 207-12 (http://www.corporateservices.noaa.gov/ames/administrative_orders/chapter_207/207-12.html)

Permitting

The Protected Species Workshop Coordinator collects name, vessel name, mailing address and phone number from vessel owners and operators to register for Hawaii longline protected species training.

Fisheries permit related BII (Vessel Name, Vessel Operator, Vessel Identifier, Fishing Locations, Catch Information, Observer Incidents, and Observer Post Cruise Log data) are covered under Non-Disclosure Agreements and Magnuson/Stevens. Permit related information is stored, depending on the related fishery, either in the Permit application database covered under the NOAA4000 PIA or in the PIRO Permit application Database, both of which are covered under the System of Records Notice (SORN) Commerce/NOAA-19, Permits and Registrations for United States Federally Regulated Fisheries.

PIRO maintains an installation of video cameras inside the American Samoa facility, archiving to a digital video recorder. The purpose of the video surveillance at the American Samoa and Pier 38 facilities is to monitor physical access to the facility. The information is not shared outside of the system.

This information is maintained locally within PIRO and is used primarily for regulatory and administrative purposes. This information may be shared with other agencies as listed in the Introduction, having a legitimate business need and authorization. All information collected is extracted from paper records supplied by the individual or derived from other sources listed in the Introduction, scanned to the network and stored in a shared file.

Investigations

NOAA4920 may share PII (Observer Name, Address, Phone Number) with the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) or US Coast Guard for investigations or prosecution.

Public

The Division receives comment letters from the public on proposed actions, published in the Federal Register. The letters may contain name, address, email address, and phone number from the public. The letters are digitally scanned and the information is entered into regs.gov. The scanned letters are purged once the info is entered.

5.2 Describe any potential threats to privacy, such as insider threat, as a result of the bureau's/operating unit's use of the information, and controls that the bureau/operating unit has put into place to ensure that the information is handled, retained, and disposed appropriately. (For example: mandatory training for system users regarding appropriate handling of information, automatic purging of information in accordance with the retention schedule, etc.)

Insider threat is a potential threat to privacy. To ensure information is handled, retained, and disposed appropriately, users are required to take IT security awareness and records management training annually. Access to PII is only provided on a need to know basis and the principle of least privilege is applied. Sensitive information in the system are encrypted at rest.
