

Anthony S. Kram

Mr. Anthony S. Kram joined the Department of Commerce in July 2015 and leads the design, implementation and operations of the acquisition service delivery model for the Department's Enterprise Services Organization, a shared services initiative. With more than 30 years' experience in applying innovative practices in Federal acquisition, Mr. Kram is responsible for the development of strategies and business processes that increase the efficiency, effectiveness, economy and responsiveness of service delivery to customers.

Prior to joining the Department of Commerce, Mr. Kram held acquisition leadership positions with the Department of Transportation Federal Highway Administration, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, the United States Coast Guard, the Department of Health and Human Services, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Department of the Army.

Mr. Kram retired from the United States Army, where he served for over 23 years in various capacities including pilot, program manager and contracting officer with the Army Acquisition Corps. Mr. Kram holds a Masters of Science degree in Acquisition and Program Management with a minor in Contract Management from the Florida Institute of Technology and a Bachelor of Science degree in Aeronautical Technologies from Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University.

Anthony and his wife, Theresa, currently reside in Virginia. They have six grown children residing across the globe.