I. WCF INTRODUCTION

WCF MISSION

The U.S. Department of Commerce (DOC) Working Capital Fund (WCF) was established on June 28, 1944. The Fund's mission is to provide centralized services to the Department's bureaus. The WCF was established without fiscal year limitation. It operates as a revolving fund and does not receive a yearly appropriation from Congress. Goods and services are financed by charging operating expenses back to the customers. The overall financial goal is to remain at a break even position. Organizational units provide the administrative support needed to accomplish DOC's overall mission. This mission focuses on promoting job creation, economic growth, sustainable development, and improved living standards for all Americans.

WCF AUTHORIZING LAW

The Working Capital Fund was established pursuant to 5 U.S.C 607 (15 U.S.C 1521). The law is quoted below.

"Section 607. Working Capital Fund; establishment amount; uses; reimbursements. "There is established a working capital fund of $100,000, without fiscal year limitation, for the payment of salaries and other expenses necessary to the maintenance and operation of (1) central duplicating photographic, drafting, and photo-stating services and (2) such other services as the Secretary, with the approval of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, determines may be performed more advantageously as central services; said fund to be reimbursed from applicable funds of bureaus, offices, and agencies for which services are performed on the basis of rates which shall include estimated or actual charges for personal services, material, equipment (including maintenance, repairs, and depreciation) and other expenses: Provided, that such central services shall, to the fullest extent practicable, be used to make unnecessary the maintenance of separate like services in the bureaus, offices, and agencies of the Department: Provided further, that a separate schedule of expenditures and reimbursements, and a statement of the current assets and liabilities of the working capital fund as of the close of the last completed fiscal year, shall be included in the annual Budget. (June 28, 1944, Ch. 294. Title III, Section 1, 58 Stat. 415.)

WCF FUND MANAGEMENT

The Secretary of Commerce is vested with managing the Working Capital Fund (WCF). Department Organizational Order 10-5 delegated this responsibility to the Chief Financial Officer and Assistant Secretary for Administration (CFO/ASA). The CFO/ASA, acting through the Office of Financial Management, monitors the financial activities of the WCF. This year the majority of offices reporting to the CFO/ASA have projects listed in the fund. In addition, the Office of Public Affairs, the Office of General Counsel and the Office of the Chief Information Office, which do not report directly to the CFO/ASA, also provide services through the fund.

The Office of the Secretary Financial Management (OSFM) located in the Office of Financial Management provides the financial stewardship and management of the fund. OSFM analysts work closely with WCF service providers and bureau customers throughout the year. OSFM budget analysts provide budgetary support to WCF service providers. They also formulate, justify and execute the WCF budget. This includes preparing timely, accurate, and complete monthly reports on the WCF financial status and management.

WCF TRANSPARENCY

A driving principal within the OSFM in managing the Working Capital Fund is Transparency. OSFM represents the customer bureaus when working with the offices within the Office of the Secretary and it represents the offices when working with the customer bureaus. There are multiple deliverables and activities throughout the year that contribute to this theme of Transparency:

Annual Working Capital Fund and Advances & Reimbursements Handbook: This handbook is updated and provided to the Department bureaus and OS offices twice a year, in Draft form before the new Fiscal Year begins and in Final form within a month of the full-year Appropriation. All WCF and A&R projects show descriptions of services, the basis of billing and performance metrics. WCF Policy, Management, Governance, and Accounting activities are also described in detail. Handbooks are distributed in person and provided online on the DOC website.

Bureau Estimates and Follow-up Meetings: In the year-of execution, OSFM provides a Draft Operating Budget and Bureau Estimate before the beginning of the Fiscal Year. After delivering the estimates to the bureaus, the OSFM Director and BFAD Director meet with the CFO, Budget Director and/or representative of each bureau to discuss key variances of +/- 10% for each project. In these sessions, questions are answered on project services, billing algorithms, key variances and any other bureau questions. A Final Operating Budget and Bureau Estimate is provided to the customers within a month of the full-year Appropriation. A summary of all key changes is provided (see WCF Budget Execution section).

Program Increases and Governance: During the annual Budget Formulation process, all proposed Program Increases and Base Reductions are presented to the Department CFO Council and DM Council (see WCF Formulation and Presentation section). Recommendations are made by the CFO and DM Councils to the CFO/ASA, who makes the final decision for all WCF program increases and reductions (see CFO Council section).

Key Changes in the Year of Execution: After formulation of the President's Budgets, there are many changes in the year of Execution (see WCF Budget Execution section). The entire budget cycle can last 18 months or more. OSFM participates in the monthly CFO Council meetings and facilitates presentations of OS Office significant project budget changes. This may include program increases or budget reductions. In addition, if additional services are needed by a customer Bureau, OSFM works with the service provider to execute a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) for the additional services.

Quarterly Billing MOUs and Project Breakdowns: DOC bureaus are billed on a quarterly basis on estimates of the quarter's anticipated obligations for project billings. Costs are billed quarterly once the MOU is signed between bureaus and OSFM for WCF services. Quarterly bills broken down by project are provided upon request. Bureau give-backs or changes are communicated during this quarterly billing process. (See Automatic Billing and Payment section and see WCF Policy section)

Quarterly OS Office Director Communication Meetings: OSFM managers and analysts work closely with WCF service providers and bureau customers throughout the year (See WCF Management section). Specifically, OSFM meets with the Office Service providers quarterly to discuss the Status of Funds and any issues, changes or activities that need to be communicated to the bureau customers.

Bi-Annual Project and Algorithm Reviews: Every other year an Algorithm Review Group is formed with bureau representatives. OSFM leads the group and the service providers each present their services, benefits to the bureaus, performance metrics and method of billing. Changes in algorithm are recommended and implemented when agreed upon and incorporated in the next operational budget (see Billing Algorithms section).

In Summary, the WCF is managed throughout the year with extreme attention to operating the fund with transparency and openness. The Handbook, estimates, variance meetings, quarterly MOUs and project breakdowns, CFO Council and DM Council briefings, periodic project and algorithm reviews are all key factors in communication. OSFM managers and staff are also available throughout the year to answer customer questions and concerns.

WCF POLICY

The Department's Working Capital Fund (WCF) authority permits recovery of the full cost of providing services to Departmental customers, allowing the WCF to remain self-sustaining. The Department has discretion in setting the rates (algorithms) used to charge bureaus, which may result in profits in any given fiscal year. Through the recovery of full costs and the discretion afforded the Department WCF in setting rates, the WCF may build an operating reserve carried over from one fiscal year to the next from which it can withstand losses generated in a given fiscal year. Rates are reviewed annually, at which time adjustments may be made which could result in less being charged to bureaus in subsequent fiscal years.

Operating reserve is defined as any earned amount left over from advances collected from WCF customers. The operating reserve can consist of bureau funds that were originally appropriated as one-year funds. Once funds are earned, they become part of the operating reserve. Funds within the operating reserve are no-year in nature. Funds collected from the bureaus for the WCF are fully earned when services, as outlined in the Handbook, are provided. Amounts in the operating reserve are available to offset future losses incurred by the WCF. In FY 2016, the CFO Council approved a carry-over funding policy that describes the components, procedure, and approval thresholds for utilizing WCF carry-over funds. Annually, OSFM will provide the CFO Council with a report of all carry-over funds that were re-purposed during the fiscal year.

The Standard Operating Procedure for processing advances includes several key steps. OSFM collects advances based on the services provided in the WCF Handbook and estimates provided by offices using a monthly spend plan. OSFM matches obligations incurred during the fiscal year against quarterly advances taken based on rates determined by the service providers. Advanced funds remaining (savings from efficiencies) after reconciling expenses can either be passed on to bureaus by adjustment of rates downward to reduce future WCF bills, held in the WCF operating reserve to cover future WCF funds shortfalls, or repurposed in accordance with the WCF Carry-Over Funding Policy. Funds retained in the operating reserve are “earned”.

II. A&R INTRODUCTION

A&R PURPOSE

The Department of Commerce's Departmental Management's Advances and Reimbursements (A&R) account provides a centralized collection source for special services, tasks or costs, and reimbursable agreements. Most A&R accounts are pass-throughs for services (for example - rent, utilities, payroll services, etc.) that are provided by other agencies. This WCF and A&R Handbook is intended to provide the reader with a thorough understanding of activities and programs funded through the A&R account, a description of the services provided, and the Basis of Budget for each A&R active project. All billing algorithms were reviewed and adjusted as needed to assure an equitable distribution of costs for FY 2019 projects.

A&R BILLING AND PAYMENT

A&R bills are processed by National Institute of Standards and Technology's Office of Financial Resource Management (NIST/OFRM). Allocated A&R projects are billed based on the algorithm for each project. Manual A&R projects are billed using the basis of budget for the actual cost of services incurred. Billings are made using the Department of Treasury Intra-governmental Payment and Collection (IPAC) system or an Inter-Office Memo (IOM).

III. WCF BILLING AND PAYMENT

ACCOUNTING

Accounting for the Working Capital Fund (WCF) provides for the recording and control of assets, liabilities, income, and expenses. The WCF applies the principles of accrual accounting required when preparing financial statements as with all other federal government entities when obligation based budgeting and billing is the practice. The status of WCF's financial affairs may be accurately determined from the accounting records maintained by the National Institute of Standards and Technology's Office of Financial Resource Management (NIST/OFRM). They provide accounting services for the WCF and prepare statements to reflect financial conditions, income and expense, and sources and application of funds.

DESCRIPTION AND BASIS OF BUDGET

The WCF is used as a mechanism to account for the costs of a broad range of services such as security, human resources, and legal counsel that can be most efficiently provided by a centrally managed and funded organization. Algorithms are used to allocate the costs of common goods or services to the bureaus. Some costs, such as costs for security services that are required by the central organizations for the benefit of only one bureau are also financed through the WCF. However, such costs are charged solely to the organization receiving the services. See discussion that follows on billing algorithms.

BILLING ALGORITHMS

All billing algorithms are reviewed for consistency and accuracy annually when operating budgets and bureau billing estimates are prepared by the offices. They are also reviewed when a change in procedure is proposed. Every other year an Algorithm Review Group is formed with bureau representatives. The Office of the Secretary Financial Management leads the group and the service providers each present their services, benefits to the bureaus, performance metrics and method of billing. Changes in algorithm are recommended and implemented when agreed upon and incorporated in the next operational budget. The WCF billing algorithms fall into several categories. The four (4) major billing methods include but are not limited to:

- (1) Billings prorated on the basis of various population or Full-time Equivalent (FTE) ceilings. These include Department-wide, Nationwide, Washington Metropolitan area, and Herbert Clark Hoover Building population levels.
- (2) Billings prorated on the basis of workload. These include projects where staff members track time spent on bureau work to determine billings.

- (3) Billings based on an actual workload with amount billed identified to a specific item or service. These include billings such as management training courses and building alterations.
- (4) Billings based on other methodologies, including direct charges to users such as reimbursable work authorizations and legal information retrieval services.

It is the WCF's policy that any changes in project descriptions or costing methods be distributed to the bureaus affected, as they occur, by the office initiating changes. OSFM will update project descriptions and basis of budgets in the Working Capital Fund Advances and Reimbursements Handbook annually.

PERFORMANCE METRICS

Performance goals and measures are important management tools applicable to all levels of the Department, including at the program, project and activity level. Metrics that include targets that assess project managers' responsiveness to customers, the consistency in the application of the basis of budget and reliability of the billing information are important. Performance Metrics that align with strategic goals can be used to evaluate how Working Capital Fund activities are contributing to the achievement of Agency goals. Performance Metrics by project are included in the Working Capital Fund Advances and Reimbursements Handbook. Service providers are responsible for maintaining documentation to support the metrics and provide explanations as customer's request. Performance metrics for manual bill projects are not included in the Handbook since these metrics are outlined in the Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) or Service Level Agreement (SLA).

AUTOMATIC BILLING AND PAYMENT SYSTEM

DOC bureaus are advance billed based on estimates of the quarter's anticipated obligations for project billings. Costs are billed quarterly once the MOU is signed between bureaus and the Office of the Secretary for WCF services. Some projects are billed manually. If DOC appropriations are under a continuing resolution, the advance billed procedure is adjusted for the first quarter of the fiscal year, or as needed until appropriations are passed.

To facilitate prompt payment, billings are made using the Intra-Governmental Payment and Collection (IPAC) system or an Inter-Office Memo (IOM). Ongoing reviews are conducted on billing rates and algorithms to ensure that costs are properly allocated and billed, with appropriate adjustments made when needed. WCF charges are tracked by the NIST/OFRM using the Commerce Business System (CBS). Monthly reports are online and on the OSFM shared drive for all DOC offices access. In addition to online reports, a monthly reconciliation of remaining advances and current month cost allocation is provided to the Bureaus. All transactions prepared after the last five business days of the month will appear on the following month's report.

IV. WCF BUDGET CYCLE

The WCF budget process adheres to the procedures required by the Commerce Budget Office, Office of Management and Budget (OMB) and the Congress. The WCF budget process closely conforms to the requirements for preparing a direct appropriation budget. This includes the:

Preparation and justification of budget estimates for the Secretary in June;

Preparation of the budget for submission to OMB in September; and Final revision and submission to Congress in February.

These time frames may vary widely and are contingent upon Secretarial and OMB Guidance.

WCF FORMULATION AND PRESENTATION

Budget formulation is the process by which resources necessary to accomplish goals are determined and justified to decision makers (the Secretary, the President, and the Congress). The budget formulation cycle typically covers 18 months. In the period beginning from April/May, the Department sends a guidance letter to all DOC Bureaus Heads and Heads of Operating Units. This letter describes the approach to be used when preparing the fiscal year budget. It also identifies the Administration's and Secretarial priorities.

For the formulation budget cycle, in order to allow time to gather information and better justify the submissions, the Office of Secretary Financial Management (OSFM) prepares a "budget call" to the Departmental Management (DM) directors. Directors for each of the programs submit their requests for WCF funding for the budget year. In turn, OSFM analysts review these budget requests for reasonableness and a tentative program budget is produced. Also, the OFM/Business Integration Transformation (BIT) team performs a systems content assessment for all information technology (IT) projects. Budget recommendations are presented to the Director for Financial Management and to the Chief Financial Officer and Assistant Secretary for Administration (CFO/ASA). The CFO/ASA reviews the budget and determines the WCF program increases to be incorporated into the budget. Service providing offices requesting program increases make presentations to the bureaus providing an opportunity to receive bureau feedback and ranking priority. The CFO/ASA makes final decisions based on CFO Council and Departmental Management Council (DMC) recommendations. OSFM finalizes the budget in early June and sends it to the Commerce Departmental Office of Budget (OB).

OB presents the WCF budget request along with the entire bureau budget requests to the Deputy Secretary and Secretary for final decision. Thereafter, it is OB's responsibility to coordinate the budget between the bureaus and OMB or the Congress. The WCF budget proposes to Congress the WCF's operating level for the budget year. Total cost recovery requires the WCF to bill the bureaus for incurred costs. The Department requests WCF cost increases by seeking Adjustments to Base (ATBs) in the bureaus' budget. However, bureaus do not always receive increases for those costs during their appropriation process. OSFM, in conjunction with OB determine whether or not the majority of bureaus have received the funds and the CFO/ASA determines if WCF increases move forward to implement. The WCF must notify OMB and Congress when adding new functions.

Rate Setting - The Director of OSFM is responsible for the review of the cost and the related projected income in each project's budget to determine their reasonableness and appropriateness. Before a budget and a billing rate can be established, any significant changes from the prior year must be justified by the director in charge of the activity. Once the rates are set for the upcoming fiscal year, each participating bureau is notified of the rates and the expected budget estimates. Generally, OSFM establishes rates at the beginning of each budget cycle, and does not adjust the rates during the course of the year.

WCF BUDGET EXECUTION

In June, OFM issues the operating budget guidance, usually in the 3rd quarter of the fiscal year, and the development of a consolidated operating budget by the service providers commences. A notice is sent to the Departmental Management offices that manage WCF projects to develop the algorithms to be used for billing DOC bureaus and other WCF customers. OSFM consolidates the operating budgets and billing algorithms into the WCF budget. OSFM prepares and sends draft bureau budget estimates to the bureau heads and secretarial officers at the beginning of the fiscal year. Meetings are conducted with customers to review and answer questions on the initial estimates. WCF customers are provided with obligation-based spending plans. This quarterly advance schedule is to be used by the bureaus when completing their SF-132 Apportionment and Reapportionment Schedules to OMB.

When bureau issues are resolved, OSFM forwards the operating budget and bureau spending plans to the NIST Financial Operations Division (FOD) by project. The approved annual budget amount, which is used for preparing the Report on Budget Execution and Budgetary Resources SF-133, is communicated to NIST/OFRM. OSFM distributes the budget in monthly, quarterly and annual increments, which are then entered into CBS for inclusion in the monthly accounting reports.

Report on Budget Execution and Budgetary Resources SF-133 - NIST is responsible for preparing the SF-133. The SF-133 fulfills the requirements in 31 U.S.C. 1511-1514 that the President review federal expenditures at least four times a year. The SF-133 provides a consistent presentation of data across programs within each agency, and across agencies, which helps program, budget, and accounting staffs to communicate. The reports also provide a basis to determine obligation patterns when programs are required to operate under a Continuing Resolution. NIST/OFRM receives an e-mail from OSFM for the fiscal year estimate. A draft copy of the SF-133 is distributed to OSFM for review and comment. OSFM reviews the draft and resolves any differences with NIST/OFRM. The Certified SF-133 is then produced by NIST accounting and sent to OSFM and the Office of Budget. NIST maintains a file copy.

Funds Control - OSFM reconciles obligations to the budget estimate on a monthly basis. A copy of the Budget Status of Funds (SOF) report is kept on the shared drive for budget contacts to update monthly to determine any variances. OSFM sends a consolidated SOF to the CFO/ASA monthly. OSFM meets quarterly with the director of each office to review the current status of the organizations budget, and to discuss other budgeting topics such as vacancies, undelivered orders, etc. Significant variances, ten percent (10%) over or under budget, are investigated and justified. Also, as a part of monitoring activities, OSFM analysts review purchase orders and personnel actions. Purchase requests are reviewed to ensure that funds are available and the purchase is being charged to the correct account and object class. OSFM analysts review purchase requests for reasonableness of the charge and consistency with the project spending plan. Obligating documents over $1 million are required to be signed by the CFO/ASA, except for purchases made by OGC and OCIO. The object class is also reviewed to ensure that items are properly classified as capital or non-capital. A cumulative depreciation schedule for capital assets is maintained by NIST/OFRM; data from the cumulative depreciation schedule is used to update the monthly WCF depreciation report. The Office of the Secretary (OS) supports the Department-wide policy to timely review, report, and de-obligate undelivered obligations (UDOs). WCF de-obligations are identified as either earned or unearned. Funds collected from the bureaus for the WCF are fully earned when services, as outlined in the WCF Handbook are provided. Once funds are earned, they become part of the operating reserve and are no year in nature. In order to properly manage fiduciary responsibilities, OS offices with approval from the Office of Secretary Financial Management (OSFM) can re-obligate WCF funds that have been de-obligated.

Accruals - The WCF accrues amounts for items received but not yet paid and prepares estimates for services received, agreements and utilities. Documentation, which may consist of purchase requests, invoices, and estimation of completed contracts, is forwarded to NIST/OFRM as needed throughout the year and at year-end for entry into the WCF general ledger. The accruals are a necessary part of preparing financial statements.

Monthly Status of Funds - Monthly, OSFM analysts compare obligations to budget estimates for each WCF activity to determine the accuracy of estimates and expected performance against the budget.

WCF AUDITS

Chief Financial Officers Act Annual Audit - The Chief Financial Officers Act of 1990 (CFO Act) prescribes that each fiscal year an audited financial statement must be prepared covering all accounts and activities for each Departmental bureau and activity. In connection with the audit, an independent certified public accounting firm performs audits of the Working Capital Fund (WCF) activities and related financial statements as part of the consolidated financial statements. The U.S. Department of Commerce's Agency Financial Report consolidates certain reporting requirements of the CFO Act, as amended by the Government Management Reform Act of 1994, The Government Performance and Results Act (GPRA) of 1993 and other related legislation. It presents DOC's consolidated financial statements, the independent auditors' reports as well as the Department's annual performance reports under GPRA and on achieving the goals of the President's Management Agenda. Reports include the report on financial statements, internal controls, and compliance with laws and regulations. The most recent audit, which covered WCF activity, resulted in an unmodified opinion. An unmodified opinion is the most desirable opinion. It expresses from the auditors' perspective that there has been no unresolvable restriction on the scope of the audit and that the auditors found no significant problems with regard to the representation of the financial statements.

CFO COUNCIL

The CFO Council consists of the CFO/ASA, Deputy CFO, CFOs from each bureau and Office of Secretary (OS) Directors who meet monthly to discuss administrative and financial matters of the Department. Items discussed include the development and implementation of administrative and financial systems, improved quality of financial information, financial data and information standards, internal controls, legislation affecting financial operations and organizations, and any other financial management matter that may arise due to circumstance (i.e. sequestration, administrative savings, etc.).

Each spring, during the budget formulation process, the program increases for the Working Capital Fund and Advances and Reimbursements are briefed to the CFO Council. The OS directors and their staff are responsible for presenting the budget justifications, billing algorithms and explaining the bureau benefits to the bureau CFO's. The CFOs discuss the program increases and billing algorithms and put forth a recommendation to the CFO/ASA. In recent years, these recommendations were brought forth to the Department Management Council for further discussion, transparency and overall concurrence. The CFO/ASA makes the final decision for all WCF program increases.

During the year, when new initiatives are added, the offices are required to notify the bureaus through the CFO Council to determine if they are supportive and able to fund the requirement.

ENTERPRISE SERVICES (FORMERLY SHARED SERVICES)

A key focus of the Operational Excellence section of the Department of Commerce's (DOC) FY 2014 - 2018 Strategic Plan is to ensure that customers across DOC have access to high quality mission enabling services in the core functional areas of Human Resources (HR), Acquisition, Financial Management (FM), and Information Technology (IT). The Department's Management Council (DMC) has evaluated alternative governance and service delivery models for mission enabling services and identified Enterprise Services as a best practice and effective strategy for improving these services across the Department. To build upon this work, the DMC launched the "Enterprise Services Project" in October of 2014. The Enterprise Services Project conducted the Assessment and Design phases, which culminated in the DMC approving: (1) specific services for delivery via a new enterprise services model; (2) a sequencing strategy for transitioning services and customers into this new model; and (3) a robust concept of operations and implementation strategy. Enterprise Services now provides:

- Personnel action request (PAR) processing, pay and benefits services to the Department

This revenue is governed by each fiscal year's version of the provision enacted at Section 706 of Public Law 113-76, and must be deposited in a centrally managed working capital account. As approved by the Facilities Management Council in June 2012, the Department established an intra-Departmental panel with representation from all Bureaus, developed governing business rules, and outlined a process to allocate that revenue against sustainability and quality of life projects based on established criteria. The result is a “Green Grant Program” whereby any Bureau or Office of the Secretary Directorate can submit a project and compete for cost-matching funds. Projects are reviewed and recommended for cost-matching funds by the intra-Departmental Green Grants Panel coordinated by the Office of Sustainable Energy and Environmental Programs. All projects recommended to receive cost-matching funds are ultimately approved by the Department’s Senior Sustainability Officer. A key prerequisite is that the organization submitting the project must be prepared to fund at least 50% of the total project cost.

The Green Grant Program is intended to use recycling revenue to further stimulate investment in sustainability, environmental stewardship, and employee support programs within the Department, and to facilitate progress against the administration’s sustainability goals by sharing the cost of investment. To be eligible for cost-matching funds, projects must fall under one of the following categories:

- Increase or maintain recycling efforts and awareness
- Increase renewable energy use and/or energy efficiency
- Increase environmental stewardship and/or compliance
- Improve Federal Quality of Life Programs (Child Care Centers and Fitness Centers)

WORKING CAPITAL FUND (WCF) PROJECTS

NOTICE: For FY 2019, AGCs plan to transition to a new Basis of Budget. Operating units will be charged for an initial performance period based on a percentage allocation of the office's budget for that performance period relative to hours expended by office staff on matters pertaining to each operating unit in the prior year. After this transition period, which is expected to be no later than the end of the second quarter of the fiscal year, operating units will be charged an hourly rate based on actual hours of service provided. Management, administrative staff, and all other operating and overhead costs will be built into the hourly staff rate. Staff will track time spent on matters pertaining to each operating unit in half-hour increments. Initial operating unit orders for legal services will be based on the expected hourly usage in light of prior year actuals and discussions with operating units with regard to predicted needs for the covered performance period. Operating units will receive not less than quarterly a reconciliation report of hours actually expended relative to the operating units' orders for service. If at any time usage reaches 80% of the initial operating unit order, OGC and operating unit management will discuss the necessity of additional orders for increased service hours. In no event will legal services be provided in excess of the hours of service for which the operating unit has ordered.

FEDERAL EXECUTIVE BOARD PROJECT 7022000

Description of Service: Federal Executive Boards (FEBs) were established under a Presidential Directive in 1961 and are located in 28 major cities. The Office of Personnel Management provides policy direction and guidance to the FEBs, and funding is derived from other executive agencies. FEBs were established to improve internal federal management practices and serve as the focal point for coordinating and sharing information and expertise among federal agencies. They are major points of contact between the government and the private sector. The board sponsors executive seminars and coordinates major programs including the Combined Federal Campaign and Public Service Recognition Week. It is the primary office for promotion of a positive federal image in the community.

Basis of Budget: Costs are billed to operating units/bureaus based on their share of the on-board population outside the National Capital Area (NCA) without FirstNet with the exception of Census which was adjusted to exclude part-time workers (outside the NCA to include Hawaii and Alaska).

issues and ultimately ensures the bi-weekly electronic transmission of checks and the annual mailing of employee W-2 statements.
